| 1. | Did the man jump like a fox? Did the cat nap on the camp bed? Did you fill a sack full of sand? Did you hand the man with the lamp a bat? I bet you can help your Dad to put up the tent! |
| 2. | We love to camp. Dad, mum and I set up a tent in the scrub. Dad brags that he did it! He got a cramp in his leg and let out a grunt. He spat on his hand and said he felt cross. Mum and I went for a swim. As the sun set we had hot cross buns and drinks by the pond. |
| 3. | As the clock struck ten, Dad backed up the truck. The dust spilled out of the tip. Help me with all of this junk! Stack the bricks on top of that hill. Pat bumped into a drum of rusted tent pegs. It was hot and Dad huffed and puffed as he dumped the junk. |

| 4. | Mum did not trust Ben to mop up the cup of milk that his sister bumped over. She thought he would drop it and spill the contents. Ben wanted to show Mum he could help, so he put the bins out, swept the deck and dusted the lamp. He mopped up his sister's milk and picked up her dolls. "You are a big help!" Mum said. |
| 5. | Spot the dog jumped up and licked Dad. Dad ducked but Spot banged into his chin. It stung! The dog skipped and skidded on the wet bank as he ran to Mum. Mum picked up a stick and threw it into the water. Spot ran fast, swam swiftly and got the stick. Spot is a fun dog but he is very strong. |
